THIS BOOK is dedicated to my long suffering wife of whom genealogy made a widow of a sort before her time.

FOREWORD

Probably many will be disappointed that this genealogy does not begin by telling where our immigrant ancestor came from and how he got to America. Frankly I do not have this information; I wish I did. Genealogists with better research facilities than mine have worked on the problem without reaching a firm solution. It seemed best therefore to begin with some well-established point of reference. Genealogy, like politics, should be an art of the possible.

The established reference point is the birth of a daughter to John Perrin in Braintree, Mass., in 1640. Soon thereafter he joined the congregation of Rev. Samuel Newman in settling the place that they came to call Rehoboth. The subsequent history of the family is well supported by church and vital records, with little occasion for guess-work.

As to origins I might say this. Tradition in my own family is that the name and family were originally French. This seems to be on safe ground, as the name is still fairly common in France, and for that matter in French Canada. Interestingly the early town clerks of Rehoboth had trouble in deciding whether to end the name with an "m" or an "n." Remembering how nasalization in French blurs the distinction between these letters, one wonders if John could have emigrated from some French-speaking place. If so it could hardly have been France itself; Canada is much more likely.

Leaving conjecture behind, this book is the first attempt, so far as I know, to bring together the various scattered accounts of the families which departed at an early date from Rehoboth. It is well to remember that while our John was among the earliest he was not the only immigrant Perrin. there may have been upwards of a dozen before 1700 at various points along the Eastern seaboard and Louisiana. Sorting out our own family from their descendants is often difficult and would sometimes be impossible without the help of several partial genealogies and certain local histories. It is time to give proper credit to these sources.

First in importance is the Genealogy of the Perrin Family published by Col. Glover Perin at St. Paul in 1885. Genealogists today view this work with a degree of scorn that to me seems to be unwarranted. True, it abounds in errors of date and is deficient in references, but when this is said, there remains a very substantial foundation on which to build. If by latter-day standards it was not done well, we should be grateful that it was done at all; and it is hardly fair to measure the book by standards which did not exist at the time it was published.

Next comes Clarence Bowen's History of Woodstock, Conn. Mr Bowen died after completing volume six, which brought his genealogies up to the letter H. Under the terms of his will, the American Antiquarian Society employed Donald Lines Jacobus to complete the work. Finding that Mr. Bowen had gathered far more material than could be used within the limits of the bequest, Mr. Jacobus prepared the final two volumes on a much briefer scale than Mr. Bowen had used in his portion. The Perrin genealogy, which partly overlaps that of Col. Perin, appears in volume eight. Having in mind Mr. Jacobus's reputation for accuracy, I adopted his version wherever it differed from Col. Perin's. In the present genealogy, the numbers which these two compilations assigned to descendants are placed in parenthesis after their names where they first appear as children.

Several migrations of Connecticut Perrins to Vermont about the time of the Revolution are dealt with in Vail's History of Pomfret, Vt., and Lovejoy's History of Royalton, Vt. The latter history gives considerable attention to some later migrations to St. Lawrence County, New York, thus preserving important links with several contemporary families.

Rev. Martin Lovering's History of Holland, Mass., adds several generations to the line of a Benjamin Perrin who went from Woodstock, Conn., to Holland about 1752 when it was still a part of Brimfield. As Mr. Bowen deals with this group only slightly, and Col. Perin not at all, Rev. Lovering's book is my only source for these genealogies. I regret to say that they are so carelessly constructed that they must be read with care to avoid falling into error.

In the library of the New England Historic Genealogical Society is a copy of Col. Perin's genealogy donated by Parley Ide Perrin. He supplied Col. Perin with much of the information on the early generations of Perrins, and evidently continued to collect material after publication. These additions and emendations he had printed in small type on slips of tinted paper which he inserted in this copy at appropriate places. In addition to correcting earlier errors, it carries several lines some generations beyond the point reached by the published book. Where I have used this material, I have so indicated.

Anyone with an ancestor in old Rehoboth will be well repaid by an examination of Richard LeBaron Bowen's history entitled "Early Rehoboth." Full of many little-known details in the lives of the settlers, it is especially relevant to a Perrin genealogy. Through the permission of his heirs, I have drawn heavily upon it in the account of the early generations.

Where I had access to public records, I checked them against these sources and placed a coded reference in square brackets near each item so verified. Published vital records are available for many Massachusetts towns. The Barbour Collection of Connecticut records, and the official vital records of Vermont are available on microfilm at the Fort Wayne Public Library. Here also I tallied several hundred hours crouched over their microfilm readers, searching the Federal census schedules for elusive Perrins. This library's genealogical collection is large and well-administered, and the staff is unfailingly gracious and helpful. In particular, Mr. Fred Reynolds, whose name identifies the collection was most helpful with suggestions and encouragement during the progress of the work. They have accepted the gift of the working papers accululated in the preparation of this book.

It is impossible to give individual credit to the many cousins who cheerfully completed charts and answered questions. I must however mention the generosity of Mrs. Franklin Wetherell who loaned me her grandmother's copy of Larned's History of Windham County, Conn. It furnished much historical bsckground for the Woodstock Families.

At times the spelling of the name has troubled me. While most descendants use the double "r," my own ancestor, Jesse, once town clerk of Rehoboth, decided, for reasons which have never been clear, that one was enough. Some of his sons followed his example, but many of their descendants have since returned to the older spelling. It is not always certain when the reversion occurred. Under this hazard, I hope I may be forgiven if sometimes I have added a letter where it does not belong or omitted it where it does.

Although genealogy as a book must end somewhere, as a record of people, it never ends. Since I intend to carry my card file forward as long as I keep my faculties, I will welcome communications from any who have information to add, or who wish to call attention to those errors that seem to be inevitable in a work of this kind.

THE JOHN PERRIN FAMILY

FIRST GENERATION

1. JOHN PEREN (P1,W1) b. 1614(?) , bur. Rehoboth, Mass., 13 Sept 1674 [VRR]. He may have been the John Perryn, aged 21 years, whose name appears in a passenger list dated 10 August 1635, of persons leaving London, England, for "Virginea" in the ship, Safety, John Graunt, Master [Hotten]. He first appears at Braintree, Mass., where the birth of a daughter, Mary, was recorded, 22 Feb 1640/1 [Savage, Vol. III]. He was one of the group which founded Rehoboth, (now East Providence, R.I.) where his name appears in the records spelled in various ways. In the only known specimen of his signature, appended to the Seekonk Compact, he signed himself "John Peren" [E.R., Vol. I, p. 108]. Ann Peren, probably his widow, was bur. at Rehoboth, 11 Mar 1688/9 [VRR].

Early in the history of Rehoboth (briefly known also as Seekonk) the property of the settlers was evaluated. John Peram, #16, had an estate of 138 pounds. This same value also appears in the proprietors' records compiled about 1665 [E.R., Vol. I, p. 109]. In the allotment of homesteads, John Perrin drew an eight acre lot at the northwest corner of the common or "ring of the green" between the lot of George Kendrick on the west, and the eight acre lot of James Clark on the east which Perrin later purchased. These lots lay on the north side of what is now Hoyt Avenue, East Providence (Rumford), R,I., between the present [1961] Wannamoisett Country Club club-house and the corner of Hoyt and Bourne Avenues [op. cit.].

On 4 June 1643, in the drawing for woodlands, John Perram drew lot #7 of eight acres. In the division for fresh meadow, he drew lot #16, one-half acre and twenty-eight rods. In the division of salt-marsh, he drew two and one-half acres [op. cit.].

On 12 Feb 1644, the town owed an unstated sum to John Peram. He drew lot #34 in the first division of the neck, 10 Mar 1644. John Peren was nineteenth of thirty signers to the Compact, 3 July 1644. On 4 Feb 1645, there was due to John Peram from the town, 10 shillings. On 9 June 1645, he drew lot #31 in a division of the great [Attleborough] plain [op. cit.].

On 20 Jan 1646, John Peram was granted a plot of meadow near Manton's Neck, in satisfaction of a defect in his original meadow [Bliss, p. 38]. On 9 Feb 1646, "John Peram, Edward Sale, John Dogget, William Sabin, and William Thayer, shall have leave to set up a weier upon the cove before William Devill's house and one upon Pawtucket River . . . provided that they hinder not either English nor Indians from fishing at either place" [op. cit.].

John Peram drew lot #31 in the division of new meadow, 18 Feb 1646. He was chosen supervisor of highways, 26 Apr 1648. He was one of a committee of six to make a rate of twenty pounds, 9 Sept 1652 [to buy weapons]. He drew lot #21 in the division of meadow on the north side of town, 22 June 1658 [E.R., Vol. I, p. 110]. On 24 Jan 1659, John Perrium was chosen one of the seven townsmen [op. cit.].

John Perum acknowledged to the selectmen, 29 Dec 1663, that he was to pay thirty pounds estate for salt and fresh marsh he bought of Robert Morris which makes his whole estate 168 pounds. On 27 Dec 1664, the town paid John Perim four shillings for two days burning of the woods [E.R., Vol. I, p. 110].

On 18 Apr 1666, John Perrim and Samuel Carpenter were chosen constables . . . . The townsmen . . . on 25 July accounted with the two constables, John Peren and Samuel Carpenter and found nine shillings due from Goodman Peren [op. cit.].

John Perrin made his will 16 June , probated 23 Nov 1674. He bequeathed to his wife Anna, "my two sons, John and Abraham," "Anna, my eldest daughter," and "Mary my other daughter." His wife, Anna, and sons, John and Abraham, were named executors; Deacon Walker, and Nathaniel Paine, overseers. Signed by X of John Perrin, Sr. Witnessed by Stephen Paine, Jr., and Daniel Smith [Plymouth Colony Wills, Vol. III, Pt. 1, p. 39]

Inventory taken by Henry and Daniel Smith and presented to court at Marshfield, 23 Nov 1674. Real estate, 230 pounds, total 375 pounds, 5 shillings, three pence. "John Perren, the son of John Perren" and "the widow, Anna Perren, and Abraham" took oath to it before James Brown, Assistant. [E.R., Vol. I, p. 111].

Salisbury, Mass., 6 Mar 1647/8, bur. 1 Mar 1677, son of Richard Ormsby and Sarah m.(2) Rehoboth, 27 Dec 1677, Nicholas Ide, Jr., b. Rehoboth, Nov 1654, d. Attleboro, Mass., 25 June 1723, son of Nicholas Ide and Martha Bliss. [E.R., Vol. I, p. 112].

SECOND GENERATION

2. JOHN[2] PERRIN (John[1]) b. probably Rehoboth, Mass., perhaps 1643, d. Roxbury, Mass., 1692, while there on business; m. about 1667, Mary Polley, bap. Roxbury, 2 June 1650, dau. of John Polley and Susanna Bacon [E.R. Vol. I, p. 112].

Here follows all that the Rehoboth town records contain about John Perrin[2] [E.R. Vol. I, p. 113, et seq.]; 20 May 1667, chosen way-warden; 16 May 1672, chosen grand juryman; 1672, to journies to court, one pound, four shillings; 26 Jan 1676, listed as having advanced one pound, thirteen shillings, ten pence for defense in King Philip's War; 6 May 1678, town rate assessed against him and brother, Abraham, seven shillings, one penny; 1678, due him and brother, Abraham, for work done about the meeting-house, two pounds, nine shillings, eight pence; 1681, due the town from him and brother Abraham, two shillings, ten pence; 14 July 1690, lent for Canady expedition [King William's War] two shillings; 2 July 1690, registered cattle ear-marks; 19 Dec 1692, he and brother, Abraham, mentioned in a fence layout; he was a freeman at Roxbury, 18 Apr 1690.

During King Philip's War, his house, probably built for him by his father, who died in 1674, was used as a garrison house, and was so mentioned in town records, under date of 11 May 1676.

Inventory of the estate of John Peren, Sen., deceased, taken 4 Nov 1692, by Thomas Read and Abraham Peren, and sworn to by Jno. Peren to whom administration was granted, 2 May 1693. Amount 147 pounds, 17 shillings. Entered 4 Oct 1694, by Jno. Carey, Register [Bristol County Probate records, Vol. I, p. 100, cited by E.R. Vol. I, p. 114].

On 28 May 1694, John Saffin, Esq., commissioned Samuel Peck, Will Carpenter, Thomas Read, Samuel Walker and Nicholas Ide, all of Rehoboth, to make a division of the estate of John Peren, Sr., late of Rehoboth "who deceased at Rocksbery," between his surviving children, Samuel Peren, and Susanah Peren, the youngest daughter, Noah Peren, Daniel Peren, David Peren, Mary Peren, and Mehetabell Peren.

John took the oath of fidelity, 1657 [Plymouth Records, cited by PIP]

Children b. Rehoboth:

Roxbury, Mass., 7 Feb 1701/2, d. Pomfret, 8 May 1790 [B], dau. of Samuel Morris and his first wife, Mehitable Mayo. Samuel moved from Woodstock to Pomfret in 1714, and lived on a farm near the junction of Quinebaug and Mill Rivers. His father bought it from the Indians who said he could have as much land as he could plow from sun to sun. It was known as Perrin Hill, and his descendants to the sixth generation owned and occupied the house which his father built for him; it was long known as "the old Perrin House."[Hist. of Windham County, Vol. I, p. 205]. He was an officer in the French and Indian War; while he was away on duty, his wife raised a large crop of carrots which kept them and their cattle from starvation through a severe winter [Hist. of Windham County, Vol. I, p. 569].

Children b. Pomfret:

iii. Nathaniel (P120) bap. 9 May 1765 [VRRx]; Nath[anie]ll Perrin and Mary Seaver, m. [int.] 16 Mar 1783 [VRRx].

A further word about this Nathaniel: Pension File S32437 has Nathaniel Perrin (sometimes called Nathan) b. Boston, Mass., 2 June 1763, m. Jane b. about 1764. Went to Sullivan County, Tenn., about 1820; to Hawkins County, Tenn., about 1830; to Pike County, Ill., about 1838, where he had family connections [children?],

At the same time a File W6864 has Joanna, widow of Nathaniel Perrin of Royalton, Vt., filing for her pension and offering as evidence a certificate from the Sec'y of the Commonwealth of Mass., dated 6 June 1854, which describes Nathaniel as 18 years old in June 1780, and from Roxbury. This is more consistent with the Nathaniel of File S32437 than with him of File W6864, who was a native of Woodstock, Conn., and b. 2 Jan 1760.

17. DANIEL[4] PERRIN (Daniel[3], John[2-1]) b. Rehoboth, Mass., 10 Feb 1711/2 [VRR], d. Rehoboth, 24 May 1740 [VRR], m. Rehoboth, 8 Apr 1736 [VRR], Sarah Hunt, b. Rehoboth, 1716, d. Pomfret, 6 June 1786, d. Barnard, 27 Nov 1865 [VRVt], dau. of Oliver Goff and Thankful. Chester and Olive are both bur. East Barnard Cemetery.

Family tradition related by Willard J. Perrin of Marion, Iowa, has it that his great-grandfather, William Perrin, was born in Pomfret of Perrins who migrated to Vermont from Connecticut. William had a younger sister Hannah who married Norman Lamphiere. This agrees with Vail's list for Chester's last two children. Chester's birth date drawn from Census schedules falls into a gap in the list of Peter's known children; and it may be significant that he named his first two children, Mary and Peter.

N.Y., 10 Sept 1804, Mary Simkins, b. 26 Sept 1789, d. 7 Dec 1851, dau. of Ephraim Simkins, sometime of Orange County, N.Y., and Rebecca Chandler. Samuel migrated to Clermont County, Ohio, with his father-in-law in 1805. He worked first for Dr. Richard Allison at the site of East Liberty. Dr. Allison treated him for a broken leg, and in payment Samuel who was a millwright overhauled a gristmill and sawmill operated by the doctor.

He bought 50 acres of land on Stonelick Creek, 11 Jan 1810 from Gen. James Taylor of Newport, Ky. Bought 60 acres from Ignatius Knott in 1815. Served in Northwest in the War of 1812 as captain of a company of which William Glancy was first lieutenant. He founded Perin's Mills (now Perintown) where he built a sawmill and gristmill. Erected a distillery in 1826. Each year during high water he sent flat boats to New Orleans laden with hams, bacon, lard, and whiskey, and brought back manufactured goods.

He was county comissioner in 1825, reelected 1828. Resigned 1830 and was elected to state legislature from Clermont County. This was the legislature which elected Thomas Ewing United States Senator.

At nineteen he began to learn the machinist trade in Pawtucket, which he mastered in three years. He then worked in Bridgewater, and Lowell, Mass., and Newark, N.J. In the latter two places he worked at building locomotives. Several other moves followed but in June 1846, he joined the Taunton Locomotive Works, as foreman and draughtsman, later becoming general superintendent In 1877 he succeeded to the position of agent and treasurer of the corporation of which he became a stockholder. He was an alderman of Taunton, a trustee of the Taunton Savings Bank, and a supporter of the Baptist Church to which he belonged.

He collected much of the data for Glover Perin's Genealogy and contributed funds for its publication. In the library of the New England Historic Genealogical Society is a donation copy of the genealogy in which he had inserted numerous additions and emendations, including photographs of himself, his brother, Anson, and his father, John Perrin.

185. FRANKLIN[8] PERIN (John[7], Lemuel[6], Jesse[5], John[4-3-2-1]) b. in Fayette County, Ind., 26 Mar 1816, d. Summit, Miss., 9 Aug 1863, m.(1) 29 June 1844, Mary K. McMicken of Cincinnati, O., b. 3 Apr 1821, d. 22 Jan 1852; m.(2) New Orleans, La., 18 June 1855, Mary Young Porter, b. Cold Water, Miss., 18 Jan 1835, d. Memphis, Tenn., 31 Oct 1905, bur. Elmwood Cemetery, Memphis, dau. of William Lawson Porter and Lydia Malvina Gillispie.

Franklin graduated from Cincinnati Law School in 1837, and soon went to New Orleans. There he practiced law, eventually in partnership with Judge James Smiley. He was appointed District Attorney for the 3rd Judicial District of Louisiana in 1846.

In 1848 he was retained in the celebrated Myra Clark Gaines suit to recover a large inheritance from her father, Daniel Clark, d. 1813, which was in litigation for nearly fifty years. Taking his family with him he went to Washington in 1860 to plead this case before the Supreme Court. Stricken with illness during the proceedings he may have been the only lawyer ever permitted to address the Court while seated. Although he won the case within the year, the disruption of the Civil War kept him from ever collecting all of his substantial fee. He died at his plantation near Greenville, Miss., which he had purchased from his law partner. [Katherine Wall Coulbourn, a great-granddaughter of Franklin].

Although Ezra taught school for a few terms as a young man, and had an unrealized ambition to study medicine, throughout most of his life he pursued the carpenter's trade which he learned from his father. In 1844 he moved to Iowa, expecting according to a family tradition to engage in steamboating on the Mississippi with his brother, Noble. The birth of his fourth child, 11 Sept 1844, may have kept him home from the disastrous

329. DAVID[9] PERIN (Lemuel[8], Glover[7], Lemuel[6], Jesse[5], John[4-3-2-1]) b. Hancock County, Ind., 12 Dec 1838, d. 14 July 1919, m. 4 Oct 1855, Martha Crouch, b. Va., 19 Oct 1840, d. 23 Feb 1914, perhaps dau. of John J. and Susan Crouch of Eden Tp. Marshall County, Iowa. In 1880 the census found them in Glen Elder Tp., Mitchell County, Kansas. The eldest child had previously married but all the other living children were listed. Curiously the census says all these children were born in Pennsylvania except Jacob who was born in Iowa. This is difficult to reconcile with family tradition which says they were all born in Iowa. David served in Co. K. 23rd Iowa Vol. Infantry, enlisting from Edensville, Marshall County. He does not however appear in the censuses of 1860 or 1870 for Eden Tp. in Marshall County or Independence Tp., Jasper County. Late in the summer of 1880 they joined a wagon train of over 100 families bound for Oregon. They eventually settled at Bellefountaine where David and Martha died. John C. is said to have remained in the east with Sarah. [Edwin Simpson; Sue Simpson Matheson; Charles A. Perin; Alice Perin Stephens].

APPENDIX A

THE ANDREW J. PERRIN FAMILY

Living in California and Illinois in 1972 was a group of Perrins descended from one, Andrew J. Perrin. According to a Bible record transcribed by a descendant, Grace Perrin Moxon, Andrew was born in Danbury, N.H., 2 Dec 1827. Family tradition further relates that he married Rosetta Vaughn, then residing in Boone County, Ill., and removed at once to Iowa. There in 1862 he died, probably of typhoid fever, leaving Rosetta with four small sons. She improvised a makeshift covered wagon and returned to her former home in Illinois where she reared all her sons to manhood.

The Bible record indicated Jones County as their place of residence in Iowa. The 1860 census of Jackson township taken in June [p. 650] showed Andrew J. Perrin, aged 30, born N.H., Rosetta, aged 27, born Ohio, and sons, Moses N., aged 6, William A., aged 4, John W., aged 2, and David J., aged six months, all born in Iowa. At the same time in Madison township which adjoins Jackson on the east there lived a Thomas Holmes with wife, Abigail, aged 46, born N.H., and several children born variously in Michigan and Iowa. The last member of the Holmes household was Moses Perrin, aged 66, born N.H. Were Abigail and Andrew sister and brother and children of Moses?

To test this hypothesis, the vital records of New Hampshire were consulted. They were silent as to Andrew and Abigail but they showed a Moses Perrin born in New Chester, 15 Aug 1790, son of David Perrin. This birth was reported from the town of Hill, and these places are in the neighborhood of Danbury. True, the census ages do not agree for either Moses or Andrew but the census ages are often wrong.

The records further show that Moses Perrin and Polly Clark, both of New Chester, were married by W.W. Sargent, J.P., 3 Mar 1812. This date was consistent with the supposition that they were parents of both Abigail and Andrew.

No other entries in the vital records seem to relate to this family. In the land transactions however, Moses Perrin of Danbury deeded land on 15 Apr 1833 to Jacob Tenney [Grantor Book 126/300]. This land lay on the line between Danbury and New Chester. The transaction was also signed by Moses's wife, Polly, and witnessed by Abigail C. Perrin. The Abigail of Jones County would have been about old enough to be a witness; the initial "C" could stand for her mother's name, Clark. In one other land transfer dated 17 Sept 1827, Moses and Polly sold land in Danbury to Asa Knowlton [Grantor Book 152/48].

These two transactions place Moses in Danbury before and after 1830. The census of that year should therefore show him in Danbury but it does not. The schedules however are very neatly arranged alphabetically - conclusive evidence that they were recopied from the original schedules at least once. Interestingly, a Moses Perry is listed whose family included a son and daughter about the ages of Andrew and Abigail. I submit that the copyist wrote Perry in error for Perrin.

Earlier land records show a Thomas and Stephen Perrin in New Chester and Salisbury who may or may not have been related to David and Moses. David does not appear in the Salisbury census for 1790 while Thomas and Stephen do; but David's name does appear in a 1791 Salisbury ministerial tax list immediately following that of Stephen and two names ahead of Thomas.

Although future discoveries may lead to a different conclusion, weighing the evidence at this point leads me to conclude that Andrew was descended through Moses and David from Thomas Perrin of Hebron, Conn., or Stephen Perrin of Granby, Conn., rather than from John Perrin of Rehoboth, Mass.

APPENDIX E

THE EPHRAIM PERRIN FAMILY

In Woodstock, Conn., in 1778, there lived a Jacob Perrin, almost certainly a son of Nathaniel Perrin of that town [Hist. Woodstock, VIII]. On 10 Feb 1778 [VRW], Jacob married Abigail Woodward of Worcester, Mass. Their third child was a son named Ephraim, born 23 Sept 178(?) [VRW]. The page containing this entry is damaged so that the exact year is uncertain; but adding two years to the birth-date of the preceding child brings us to 1783. The vital records of Woodstock say nothing about Ephraim's subsequent history. Presumably he migrated out of that area.

In Caledonia County, Vt., the smallest township is Stannard lying in the western edge of the county, adjoining Greensboro in Orleans County. In 1792, by a singular act of the legislature, this area, then called Goshen Gore, with another now set off to Washington County, and one in Addison County 70 miles distant, were incorporated as the town of Goshen. In 1854 Goshen Gore was severed from these other districts and in 1867 incorporated as a town in its own right under the present name of Stannard. The settlement is largely in the western part of the town, The eastern third being in timber (1887).

According to the Gazetteer of Caledonia and Essex Counties, 1887, one of the early settlers of the town was Ephraim Perrin of Connecticut. He arrived in 1807 and built a log house against a huge rock which served as a fireplace as well as one side of the structure. Here he lived alone for seven years until his circumstances warranted taking a wife. In 1815 he married Polly Cheever and built a frame house. Polly soon died and Ephraim married Maria Cutler in 1821. After rearing a large family she died in 1847 and he in 1859.

The vital records of Vermont list Ephraim's death under date of 11 Aug 1859, at which time he was said to be 76 years old. This places his birth in 1783. In the 1850 census of Goshen Gore, p. 255, he appears as a farmer, born in Connecticut, aged 66. As the census was taken in August, a birthdate later in the year would result in counting the age from the preceding year, so again we arrive at 1783.

Bible records in the possession of Miss Marjorie Louise Perrin of Burlington, Vt., show that Ephraim named one of his sons Ephraim Woodard. This echoes the maiden name of Ephraim's mother, but it is only fair to say that there were Woodward or Woodard families in the Stannard area from whom the name could derive.

Admittedly all this is thin soil in which to plant a family tree, but entire royal pedigrees have been fashioned out of less convincing evidence. In my own mind I am quite clear that this Ephraim and the one of Woodstock are the same man.

From census schedules, the vital records of Vermont, and Bible and other records in the hands of Miss Perrin, I have constructed the appended family records in the hope that they are substantially correct.

E1. EPHRAIM[6] PERRIN (?Jacob[5], Nathaniel[4], Samuel[3], John[2-1]) b. Woodstock, Conn., 28 Sept 178(3?) [VRW], d. Stannard, Vt., 11 Aug 1759 [VRVt], buried Batchelder Cemetery; m.(1) 29 Oct 1815 [BR], Polly Cheever, b. 7 Sept 1785 [BR], d. 2 Feb 1821 [BR]; m.(2) Hardwick, Vt., 15 Nov 1821 [VRVt], Maria Cutler, b. 13 May 1800 [BR], d. Stannard, 24 Sept 1847 [VRVt], ae 47 y., 4m. Ephraim migrated to Stannard (Goshen Gore) in 1807. In 1850 he appears in Goshen Gore as a farmer, b. Conn., ae 66 [census, p. 255]. In his household were Augusta, ae 20, Ashbel C., ae 17, and Caroline, ae 11. All his children appear to have been born in Goshen Gore.

2. Robin Keith, b. 25 Sept 1955.
3. Kristin Louise, b. 22 Feb 1958.

APPENDIX R

When Samuel Perin founded Perintown in Clermont County, Ohio, and prospered there, he set in motion a train of events that ended in the single "r" family's dominating the Cincinnati area, the only major city in America where this is true. He reared six able sons, four of whom were prominent in Cincinnati and vicinity, and all of whom produced large families.

Nevertheless there were families of a different origin in the area. At least one of them appears to have been dragged, willy-nilly, into the single "r" group by sheer force of numbers and importance. The reference is to the family of Ranna Perin, born in Ohio, 10 Nov 1812 [1850 census; Elizabeth Perin Hock].

In early records his name is variously spelled Perrine, Perine, and Perrin, but after 1850 seems to have stabilized as Perin. His daughter-in-law, Elizabeth McManamin Perin, assured her grandchildren that they were related to all the other Cincinnati Perins. In spite of this assurance, and considerable time spent on the project, I have not found any evidence of this relationship. On the contrary, this family also has a tradition that their forebears migrated from Canada to Ohio; and there was indeed a group of Perrins that migrated from Nova Scotia to Lucas County in early times. [12 Feb 1774,

Finally the Barbour Collection has a record of a Ranna Perrin, born Granby, Conn., a descendant of Thomas Perrin of Hebron (see APPENDIX T). This Ranna could have migrated to Ohio in time to have fathered the Clermont County Ranna in 1812. Neither of these alternative lines of descent would establish any relationship to the line of Samuel Perin.

I am indebted to Elizabeth Perin Hock for the following tables.

R1. RANNA[1] PERIN, b. Ohio [1850 census], 10 Nov 1812, d. 19 Dec 1872, m.(1) 26 Aug 1832, Elizabeth Thomas, b. 6 May 1814, d. 20 July 1851; m.(2) 23 Oct 1851, Emmaline Potter, b. 15 Sept 1829, d. 17 May 1857. Ranna was a plasterer in Clermont County, Ohio, in 1850.

APPENDIX T

THE THOMAS PERRIN FAMILY

Although his descendants believe that their American history begins with Thomas Perrin who came to this continent between 1716 and 1719, and settled at Hebron, Connecticut, it is well to note that the vital records of Ipswich, Mass., list the marriage of Thomas Perrin and Susan Roberds in that town, 28 Feb 1666. A Sergeant Thomas and Margaret Perrin had a son, Thomas, born 6 Sept 1708, in Ipswich, who became a doctor and later settled in Wethersfield, Conn. What connection if any there is among the Hebron, Ipswich, and Rehoboth families I do not know nor is it within the scope of my present task to inquire.

I might add however that one correspondent has offered without benefit of documentation the information that Thomas of Hebron had a great uncle, John Perrin, born in Leicestershire, 10 Mar 1614, and described in a land settlement of 1669 as being overseas in America. If this is true, this John could have been the 21 year old passenger in the ship, Safety, who may have come to Massachusetts in 1635 [Hotten]. So much for matters of conjecture.

The compilation here offered is almost entirely the work of the late Carl Leslie Perrin of New Hartford, Iowa. About 1954 he suffered a heart attack which enforced a period of idleness. To occupy his time he began corresponding with family members and other genealogical sources, thereby gathering a large fund of data about the descendants of Thomas, and some about those of John. Mr. Perrin had the instincts of a careful genealogist; he indulged in no guesswork. Whenever I have checked his work against the public records, I have found it accurate. He did the best he could under trying circumstances, and his best is very good. His children, Carl Daniel Perrin and Opal Perrin Hansen, very graciously allowed me to use their father's work as a supplement to my own.

I have added a few family records that came into my hands during work on my own family. The most notable of these are the Indianapolis banker, John Perrin, 1857-1931, and his second cousin, Bernadotte, the Yale professor and classical scholar. Aside from these few additions the only changes were the dropping of the rosters of the Perrin daughters, and the arrangement of the data in the Register form used elsewhere in this volume. A number in parenthesis following a child's name is the number assigned to him in Mr. Perrin's compilation.
